San Nicolas Rodgers Beach Left Filthy!!!

Rodgers Beach has one of the few spots left where you can keep any party for free with a tremendous view, and shade, however please keep this clean when finished! 2 persons enjoying a drive beach hopping saw how nasty someone left Rodgers Beach, and could not take it, so they took matters into their own hands to clean this up. Please Let's Take Care Of The Few Things We HAVE

Thirteen Persons age 60+ Graduate In San Nicolas

The Biblioteca Nacional Aruba, the San Nicolas Branch, is full of excitement. On July 29th, 2019 marks a great day in the lives of thirteen 60+, pensioners and elderly who are graduating after a ten sessions workshop course on how to use the computer and operate the cellphone. The thirteen graduates have familiarized themselves with both computer and cellphone and are looking forward to the advance class. When asked how they felt, a smiling and nervous face answered "awesome". The instructor and initiator of the project, Mrs. Jacqueline V. Woodley noticed the progress that our island is heading in and realized that the key target groups that have brought Aruba to where it is, is not being tended to, to bring them up to par. Aruba is going digital and so must our target groups. "They must not stay behind", she says. On June 29th, 2019, she launched the first group to teach them how to use computer and cellphone. Ten sessions later, with success, they graduate and are looking forward to the advance class.

"Aruba is growing and we must all fulfill our part honestly. We have to correct where we went wrong and develop ourselves to fill gaps that were created. Every generation has their role to play and cannot be skipped or excluded. We must continue to educate ourselves to fill the gaps. We can all enjoy the piece of the cake without having to fight or kill each other for it. We are a peculiar people, versatile, extremely creative and smart in our different areas. All are mandatory, none exempt. Let us all work towards it together without eliminating anyone."

I am San Nicolas. You are San Nicolas. We are San Nicolas and together we are doing it."

In the last week of August, we will be launching two more groups. If you are interested and you are a 60+, pensioner or elderly, please enroll at San Nicolas library from Monday through Friday.

San Nicolas Business Association At Work

SNBA sat down with the minister of finance Xiomara Ruiz-Maduro, and the minister was impressed with the initiative from the SNBA and their plans to bring back San Nicolas and it's economy. On August 21st SNBA will be having their Summit, this is valuable to brainstorm ideas and strategies to not only help those 5 businesses that are planning to close down in San Nicolas, but also improve sales for all the other businesses.

Grand Opening Grand Closing?

It has come to our attention that the Visitor Information Center has been closed for a very long time! We have even see tourist stopping to try and find opening hours to get to ask questions however like most of these project the San Nicolas community are always left out of the loop. It is very disappointing after such a grand luxurious opening event, for this building to remains closed, if this is the case, there was much more things that could have been done with that money.

What Is This Line In The Street?

We have all seen this zig zag line on the street and asked our selves" Was That In The Traffic Book? and no you are not going crazy, this line is mostly used in Europe when reaching close to danger like train crossings. As you can see they are right in front of a speed bump indicating you that there is danger ahead(slow down for the speed bump)
Normally government departments had to have informed the public before or even after this was done, however like our wise elders does say:
" fishing behind the net"

San Nicolas Talent Making A Good Impression

Do you remember Rasheed Lowe? He received a wonderful donation of arts supplies last month from the Stamper family.

This time he contacted Cosecha so we could arrange a moment for him to give the Stamper family a gift as a token of his appreciation. And what a gem of a gift! A masterpiece that will have a special place in the Stamper family's home.

Rasheed wants to thank the Stamper family once again for the donation. He understands the impact this good deed will have on his development and he will be forever grateful for this opportunity.

Heatwaves: elderly care

It's important to check:

Does the person receive at least 2 visits a day?

Is s/he lightly clothed?

Is s/he protected from the sun by curtains or blinds?

Do they eat enough?

Is the temperature in room below
25°C?

Does s/he have a telephone?

Is the refrigerator working?

Are important phone numbers listed by the phone?

Are drinks available?

Is s/he aware of prevention measures?

Elderly people living in isolation are especially at risk. If you know an elderly person who might be suffering from heatwaves, please visit them or give them a call.
